CHICAGO, May 4. Mazon. Her closest competitor is Stephen A. Day, of Evanston, and not John J. Brown, of Vandalia, as was thought from an acrifice court.

THE TRUTH

In The Tribune of April 28 John F. Milliken, secretary-treasurer of the "Neptune Association of Licensed Masters and Mates of Ocean and Coastwise Steam Vessels, Inc.," was referred to as a "union chief." Mr. Milliken writes to say: "The Neptune Association is not a labor union. The members of this organization are licensed under a Federal statute to be officers of our merchant vessels, and many of them were commissioned in the late war by the United States Navy as lieutenants and lieutenant commanders, and in many cases they still hold these naval ratings. According to Admiral A. T. Mahan, who is the greatest recognized authority on maritime affairs, going to sea is neither a calling nor a trade, but a profession. He also said, in speaking of the men who go to sea: "They are a race apart, neither themselves nor their calling thoroughly understood." The more I come in contact with people ashore the more I realize this to be a fact. An officer on a merchant ship cannot be classed as a laborer any more than a doctor or a lawyer."
